Patrol Response to Outlaw Motorcycle Gangs

May 4-5, 2010 in Marietta, Georgia
Hosted by the Cobb County Police Department

A two-day (16 hour) training program designed for patrol officers and supervisors who may encounter members and associates of outlaw motorcycle gangs during their day to day duties. The course curriculum includes the origin and history of outlaw motorcycle gangs, identification of patches and tattoos, organizational structure and recruiting process, philosophy of members, biker violence, a break down of the Big 4 outlaw motorcycle gangs and much more.

Officers will receive critical training in all aspects of dealing with outlaw motorcycle gang members and their associates including legal and ethical considerations that should be taken into account during contacts. Over the past three years law enforcement agencies in the United States have paid out thousands of dollars to members of outlaw motorcycle gangs from incidents involving uniformed patrol officers and investigators who were trying to deal with gang problems in their communities. Officers will receive special training on how to protect themselves and their agencies from frivolous lawsuits from these criminal organizations and still be able to do deal with these individuals effectively.

Instructors will concentrate on the proper ways to identify suspected members and associates of outlaw motorcycle gangs and will teach effective methods of conducting traffic stops on gang members both on motorcycles and in other vehicles. Outlaw motorcycle gangs involvement in the drug trade will be detailed and Officers will be trained in Unique Investigative Techniques that can be utilized to disrupt and disband the gangs and their membership. Additionally Officers will be trained in the recognition of unique weapons possessed by outlaw motorcycle gang members. The instructor for this seminar has many years of investigative experience and a wealth of information to share with fellow officers.
